Peace does not mean the absence of war. Peace means the presence of harmony, love, satisfaction and oneness.

The outer message of the United Nations is Peace. The inner message of the United Nations is Love. The inmost message of the United Nations is Oneness.

The United Nations as a whole wants to offer peace. PEACE AND THE United Nations are inseparable.

Peace means the presence of harmony, love, satisfaction and oneness. Peace means a flood of love in the world family. Peace means the unity of the universal heart and the oneness of the universal soul.

Peace, freedom, progress, perfection--these are the four rungs of the cosmic ladder which the United Nations has perfectly housed in the unseen recesses of its heart.

Peace we achieve when we do not expect anything from the world, but only give, give and give unconditionally what we have and what we are.

There are a number of things that the United Nations can teach us how to share, but the four principal things are: the message of trust, the message of concern, the message of unity in diversity and, finally, the message of universal peace.

In the outer life you cannot have peace unless and until you have first established peace in your inner life.

It is only through inner Peace that we can have true outer Freedom.

The inner heart of the United Nations is flooded with peace. The outer heart of the United Nations is trying to spread peace all over the world.
